It weighs approximately 4 kg in standard configuration. Archived from the original on 10 June 2014. The AR series comes in many variants such as the AR90, with a wire folding stock, for use by paratroopers. Beretta began to develop an upgraded version of the Beretta AR70/90 platform, but the product in development would eventually evolve into the Beretta ARX-160, which would be chosen as AR70/90's successor as standard automatic rifle of Italian Armed Forces. However, it was not adopted by Italian Armed Forces, whom had instead adopted the Belgian FN Minimi. An extension you use may be preventing Wikiwand articles from loading properly.
